BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

- International faculty
- Exchange and internship opportunities

The University of Tartu has been a forerunner of business education and research in Estonia. Thousands of our alumni work successfully in private businesses, hold important positions in public companies and institutions, or have continued academic careers worldwide.

The Faculty of Economics and Business Administration has been an Alma Mater for many outstanding business and political leaders. Notably, Mr. Siim Kallas, Vice-President of the European Commission.

Why study business in Estonia?

- Due to its geopolitical position the Estonian economy has always been very international and linked to global economic community.
- Estonia is one of the most dynamic and innovative regions in the European Union known for its modern IT solutions and communication technologies.
- Many globally successful businesses like Skype, Playtech and Ericsson are located in Estonia.
- Students of the University of Tartu can go on exchange to anywhere in the world from the USA to Australia. The university has 65 partners in 23 countries, more than 800 Erasmus agreements and it is connected to 300 universities through ISEP. Students can get to know not only the economy of Estonia, but also a country of their choice.

The slogan of Tartu is "City of good thoughts" and good thoughts are thought by awesome people. It doesn't matter if they are locals, other Estonian students or exchange students from other countries. As a foreign student in English BBA programme you end up in classes with 20 people and almost as many countries they represent. If one is looking for a place to learn what is the business culture and way of thinking in other countries, there are not many places better than Tartu."
